

Hi, Neighbor

✓ Fillable PDF + Printable (4 notes per page)

Hi, neighbor!

A few of us are starting a WhatsApp group for people in the building.

It would be a simple way to connect and occasionally help each other with small things, like lockouts, packages, pet care, or building updates.

There's absolutely no expectation to help. It's just a way to know who may be around and available.

To joint, text me at _____

Name - apartment _____

Use this note template to invite your neighbors to a group chat for life's small emergencies.

This is a great way to discover who you might trust with a spare key, pet care, or who you'd simply like to know better.

Customize it. Print it. Cut it. Knock on a few doors. You might be surprised what happens next.

Tell me how it goes.

Found this useful?

Join 135+ people getting practical guides for building a life that works solo.

→ samiraunscripted.com/subscribe

Hi, neighbor!

A few of us are starting a WhatsApp group for people in the building.

It would be a simple way to connect and occasionally help each other with small things, like lockouts, packages, pet care, or building updates. There's absolutely no expectation to help. It's just a way to know who may be around and available.

To join, text me at: _____

Name: _____ - apartment/unit: _____

Hi, neighbor!

A few of us are starting a WhatsApp group for people in the building.

It would be a simple way to connect and occasionally help each other with small things, like lockouts, packages, pet care, or building updates. There's absolutely no expectation to help. It's just a way to know who may be around and available.

To join, text me at: _____

Name: _____ - apartment/unit: _____

Hi, neighbor!

A few of us are starting a WhatsApp group for people in the building.

It would be a simple way to connect and occasionally help each other with small things, like lockouts, packages, pet care, or building updates. There's absolutely no expectation to help. It's just a way to know who may be around and available.

To join, text me at: _____

Name: _____ - apartment/unit: _____

Hi, neighbor!

A few of us are starting a WhatsApp group for people in the building.

It would be a simple way to connect and occasionally help each other with small things, like lockouts, packages, pet care, or building updates. There's absolutely no expectation to help. It's just a way to know who may be around and available.

To join, text me at: _____

Name: _____ - apartment/unit: _____